Motor yacht Play Fellow was built for a famous Austrian industrialist in the Swedish shipyard Gustafsson & Anderssons Varvs, today Boghamar Marin Lidingo. Originally named Eros, she was registered under the Austrian flag and inscribed in Germanischer Lloyd Register. Until 1991, Eros was a family boat cruising the North Sea, the Atlantic and the Mediterranean. In 1991, she changes the owner and gets the new name - Play Fellow, together with the English flag. The new owner, a great lover of marine sciences, carried out two yacht refits. A complete refit, with the engine renovation and installation of new motors and generators, as well as the navigational instruments, was done in 2000. The interior was renovated in 2008. Play Fellow has two very quiet motors, two noiseless generators, two anchors, and it has many spare parts in the case something breaks down. Captain Vladimir on Play Fellow has very big experience working 25 years as the Captain. Interior design was made by Mrs. Pjetroboni, who has made the interior design for Feretti as well. For example all the bed mattresses are from the best quality latex material, and all blankets are from satin.
